Welcome, Alumni

Dear Alumni,

Please mark your calendars to return to Haverford for Alumni Weekend: May 27–29, 2016. This year’s celebration, which takes place over Memorial Day weekend, will include many exciting opportunities for alumni, families, friends, and campus community members. No matter what you are looking for—classroom-style lectures with faculty, athletic activities such as softball and yoga, a trip to The Barnes Foundation, or class parties in memorable locations—all of this, and more, awaits. Meanwhile, HaverCamp makes it easy to bring the whole family back for Reunion. With three childcare sessions available throughout the day on Saturday, plus a Family Carnival on Lloyd Green (open to everyone), there will be fun for all, including “first-time Fords.”

One of the highlights of this year’s festivities will be Saturday’s Food Truck and Music Festival on Founders Green, which will showcase alumni bands and offer a variety of cuisines accommodating all tastes (see page 37 for details). We will be hosting screenings of two films over the weekend, the sci-fi thriller Inverse, by Stephanie Bell Veneris ’86, as well as 1971, a documentary about the storied break-in of a nearby FBI office that was organized with the help of Haverford professor Bill Davidon, with an exclusive Q&A with the director. And those of you who recall working with Professor of Drama Bob Butman, who taught theater to the Bi-Co community from the mid-’50s to mid-’80s, won’t want to miss the special gathering in his honor on Saturday. This is just a sampling of the many events you will read about in the following pages.

Please join me in thanking the volunteers on your class Reunion Committees who have worked so hard to put together an appealing program. Register starting April 1 via the hard copy form in this brochure or online at fords.haverford.edu/alumniweekend.

On behalf of everyone here on campus, I hope to see you this May!

Kim Benston

Before Watergate, WikiLeaks, and Edward Snowden, there was Media, Pennsylvania. On March 8, 1971, Haverford physics professor Bill Davidon and other members of the “Citizens Commission to Investigate the FBI” broke into the Media, PA office of the FBI. They collected over 1,000 documents, some of which revealed the FBI’s illegal COINTELPRO operation that targeted groups and individuals that the FBI deemed subversive. The burglars were never caught, and their identities remained a closely guarded secret until voluntarily revealed in a book (The Burglary by Betty Medsger) and this documentary in 2014. There will be a panel discussion on Saturday afternoon about these and other whistleblowers, including Dan Ellsberg, Edward Snowden, and WikiLeaks (see page 12 for details). We recommend watching 1971 in advance, either at one of the screenings on campus during the weekend (see ad on right) or by renting or purchasing the film online via Amazon, Netflix, or GooglePlay so that you can fully appreciate Saturday’s discussion around the events of March 8, 1971.

Events are subject to change. Visit haverford.edu/alumniweekend or download the Haverford College Alumni app for the latest updates.

Class of 1966 Presents “Life After Haverford”
2:00–3:30 p.m.
Stokes Auditorium
Five classmates will lead a discussion of their lives since graduating 50 years ago. Each will share a few highlights from their own fascinating journey through his professional and personal life. Panelists from our class have traversed the fields of higher education teaching, administration, and national research funding (2016 alumni award winner, Hunter Rawlings ’66); the creative world of theater arts on stage and off (Munson Hicks ’66); poverty law providing civil legal assistance and representation to low income clients and community groups (Clark de Schweinitz ’66); international investigative journalism (Roy Gutman ’66); and Quaker secondary education leadership and diversity development (David Felsen ’66). We invite others to share their stories as well, both during and after this session.

Class of 1961 Presents “Where Do We Live As We Get Older?”
2:30–4:00 p.m.
Hilles 109
The panel will explore the options of staying put, or moving into a condo, senior living (fee for service), life care, a personal care home, assisted living, or a nursing home. A Medicare expert will tell us what role Medicare plays in funding stays at these facilities. Panelists: Pete Fox ’61, John Gould ’61, Professor Marcel Gutwirth, and Jim Lee ’59, all residents of the Quadrangle at Haverford; Denise Miller, CEO of the Quadrangle; and Turk Pierce ’61.

Class of 1986 Presents a Screening of Inverse
2:30–4:30 p.m.
Chase Auditorium
All are invited to watch the 2014 sci-fi thriller produced by Stephanie Bell Veneris ’86. A man bursts into consciousness, disoriented and confused. As he tries to regain his memory, he discovers a mind-blowing truth: he is from a parallel universe. Overcome with forbidden desire, he has broken a sacred rule of law and now must struggle to repair the damaged lives of those he loves before a dangerous government agency destroys them.

Classes of 1966 and 1976 Present “The Death Penalty Debate and Haverford Values”
3:30–5:00 p.m.
Stokes Auditorium
In 1972, the U.S. Supreme Court found the death penalty unconstitutional in a case litigated by Anthony Amsterdam ’57 on behalf of the NAACP Legal Defense Fund. Most of the states simply enacted new capital statutes in response, and the United States Supreme Court opened a new era of capital punishment by approving some of the new statutes in 1976. The 1980s and 1990s were an era of death penalty expansion, with the death row population growing to over 3,500 and 98 executions carried out in 1999. Ever since, the death penalty has been in slow decline. Stephen Harper ’76, a veteran public defender turned law professor, and Russell Stetler ’66, national mitigation coordinator for the federal death penalty projects, will facilitate a conversation on the modern death penalty debate and whether the Supreme Court is likely to revisit the constitutionality of the death penalty. They will also discuss how values nurtured at Haverford have led many alumni into careers defending capital clients.

Survivors of the ’60s know that “forward into the past” were words to live by well before Back to the Future.
Trained at Haverford never to be bound by outmoded syllogistic logic, the members of the Class of 1971 will again go in two directions to discuss their futures and pasts with the able guidance of our own professional pundit-wrangler, Jon Delano ’71. All are welcome, but it’s an honor code violation if you don’t pay for any breakfast you eat during the session.

Alumni Birdwalk with Ben Jesup ’86 🦆
8:00–9:30 a.m.
Meet at the Duck Pond on College Lane
Join Ben for a leisurely walk on the nature trail. If the birding is slow, Ben, who practices wildlife law for the Department of the Interior, can share thoughts about current issues involving the Endangered Species Act. Bring binoculars if you have them.

Yoga 🧘‍♂️
8:30–9:30 a.m.

HaverCamp
Open 9:00 a.m.–11:00 p.m.
Ira De A. Reid House

Daylong childcare services for children ages 3–13 are staffed by energetic Haverford students and overseen by a certified teacher. Three sessions (morning, afternoon, and evening) each cost $35 per child and $15 for each additional child. Activities include a nature walk, story time, arts and crafts, and a supervised trip to the family carnival and magic show. Unfortunately, we are unable to provide care for children who are under the age of three or who are not toilet-trained. Upon arrival, sign in your child at the camp’s headquarters at the Ira De A. Reid House. You may stop in to see your child at any time throughout the day. To maintain a safe counselor-to-camper ratio, pre-registration is required; we are unable to accommodate walk-ins. Please note that the Ira De A. Reid House is closed to visitors during Alumni Weekend with the exception of HaverCampers and their parents.

Classes of 1966, 1971, and 1986 Present “Haverford and Activism, from Vietnam to WikiLeaks”
2:00–3:30 p.m.
Stokes Auditorium
On March 8, 1971, Haverford physics professor Bill Davison and other members of the “Citizens Commission to Investigate the FBI” broke into the Media, PA office of the FBI. They collected over 1,000 documents, some of which revealed the FBI’s illegal COINTELPRO operation that targeted groups and individuals that the FBI deemed subversive. The burglars were never caught, and their identities remained a closely guarded secret until voluntarily revealed in a book and documentary in 2014. Looking into the challenging future for individuals increasingly aware of the power of the State, join us for an interactive conversation about how Haverford values have had a quiet, sometimes hidden, yet enormous impact on activism. We recommend watching 1971 in advance, either at one of the screenings on campus during the weekend (see ad on page 2) or by renting or purchasing the film online via Amazon, Netflix, or GooglePlay so that you can fully appreciate Saturday’s discussion around the events of March 8, 1971. Panelists include: Johanna Hamilton, director of the film 1971; Peter Goldberger ’71, an editor of the Bryn Mawr-Haverford News, who covered the incident and disclosures at the time and will discuss the political climate on campus; and Vince Warren ’86, executive director of the Center for Constitutional Rights, which represents Julian Assange and WikiLeaks and has filed major litigation.
related to Chelsea Manning’s and Edward Snowden’s revelations. Moderator and filmmaker Robert Hillmann ’66 will bring filmed greetings from both Daniel Ellsberg—who will share the pivotal role Haverford played in his decision to copy and release The Pentagon Papers—and from former Haverford professor Josiah “Tink” Thompson about faculty involvement in the FBI office break-in.

Class of 1976 Presents “Planning for What Comes Next” 2:00–3:30 p.m.
Whitehead Campus Center, Room 210—Admission Information Session Room
As we gather to celebrate our 40th Reunion, one of the burning issues that we face is what are we going to do, after moving into the next chapter of our personal voyages. We hear a great deal about planning for retirement from the financial perspective, but not much about what we are going to do with our waking hours. Class Panelists Jon Saxton, David Spitulnik, and Dana Winslow will discuss their personal journeys and explore their process of preparation. Topics will include the radical changes that may occur between pre-retirement and encore career; the process of re-conceptualizing your life; and surprises before, during, and after the process.

Class of 1961 Class Meeting
2:00–3:00 p.m.
Whitehead Campus Center, Room 313

REUNION CLASS HOUSING

Dormitory rooms are available Thursday night through Sunday morning. The price is $75 per person, whether you stay one, two, or three nights.

Within each room you will find bed linens, blankets, basic toiletries and two towels for each guest. You may want to bring additional towels, hangers, and basic toiletries. All rooms have air conditioning. There are no double beds or private baths.

If you stay in the dorms, you must return your room key at either the registration desk in Whitehead Campus Center or at brunch at the Dining Center on Sunday morning, or you will incur a $150 fee (as the College is required to change the locks on that room).

Some alumni prefer the convenience of a local hotel. The College has reserved blocks of rooms at a number of local hotels (list at fords.haverford.edu/alumniweekend). When making your reservation, please indicate that you are calling for the Haverford College Alumni Weekend rate.

Lambda Gathering: “Haverford Life Then and Now”
3:00–4:00 p.m.
Stokes Hall, Room 104—Center for Peace and Global Citizenship (CPGC) Café
Join a conversation facilitated by Rory Kennison ’18.

Class of 1961 Presents Associate Professor of Political Science Barak Mendelsohn on “The Islamic State and al-Qaeda: A Troubled Relationship”
3:30–5:00 p.m.
Chase Auditorium
Learn how ISIS transformed from a branch of al-Qaeda into a bitter enemy that upstaged al-Qaeda and even threatens al-Qaeda’s survival.

Class of 1991 and 1996 Present Professor Emeritus Roger Lane on “Abraham Lincoln, As Seen from 2016”
3:30–5:00 p.m.
Stokes Auditorium
When elected in 1860, Abraham Lincoln offered fewer of the traditional credentials than any prior President of the United States. Only time and history revealed his greatness. This campaign season, with rival candidates making their own unusual and sometimes tumultuous bids for the same office, is a good time to reflect on Lincoln’s career and the contrasts it offers to today.

3:30–4:30 p.m.
Whitehead Campus Center, Room 313
Join us for an informal discussion with our classmate.

Bi-Co Theater Affinity Reunion: Three Decades of Drama—Celebrating Professor Robert Butman, the Bryn Mawr College Theatre, and the Haverford College Drama Club
3:30–5:00 p.m.
Magill Library
Professor Robert Butman (1924–1994) had a profound influence on so many during his joint tenure at Haverford and Bryn Mawr. A much-appreciated professor of playwriting and the humanities, Professor Butman directed students in three plays a year for more than 25 years. Haverford theater buffs, members of the Haverford Drama Club, and friends and admirers are all invited to take part in honoring Professor Butman through reminiscences and an exhibit of Bi-Co drama and theater memorabilia from the Butman era. Join us for a reception and celebration in honor of Professor Butman, along with volunteer coordinators Stephan Chodorov ’56, Mary Darling Hewes BMC ’56, Patricia Moran Robbins BMC ’57, Henning Sieverts ’56, and members of the Robert Hawes Butman Legacy Committee. Following the reception, please continue your conversations in Stokes while also enjoying the VCAM Update and Student Film Open House (see description on page 21).

Office of Multicultural Affairs (OMA) Open House
4:00–5:00 p.m.
Stokes Hall, Room 106—Multicultural Center
In conjunction with the Multicultural Alumni Action Group (MAAG) and the Student Activities Office (SAO), the OMA will host an open conversation on the current climate of higher education around diversity and inclusion, featuring current students and alumni working on curricula, pedagogies, and education policy as teachers, administrators, and activists. We invite community members to share their stories, insights, visions, and challenges.

VCAM (Visual Culture, Arts, and Media) Update and Student Film Open House
5:00–6:00 p.m.
Stokes Hall, Room 102
Join Laura McGrane, VCAM lead team member and chair of the Department of English, and Artist-in-Residence Vicky Funari to talk about the College’s new VCAM facility and see exemplary clips from the past five years of student filmmaking. Wine, beer, and snacks will be served.

Bi-Co Theater Affinity Reunion and Celebration of Professor Robert Butman—Continued Conversations
5:00–6:00 p.m.
Stokes Hall, Room 104—Center for Peace and Global Citizenship (CPGC) Café
Pick up where conversations in Magill Library left off. (See description on page 20.)

Class of 1991 25th Reunion President’s Reception
5:30–6:00 p.m.
Dining Center, West Wing
A 25th Reunion tradition. Meet and mingle with President Kim Benston and faculty. Open only to members of the Class of 1991 and their guests.

Alcoholics Anonymous Reception
5:30–7:00 p.m.
Bryn Mawr College, Thomas, London Room

Wine and Cheese Reception with Faculty
6:00–7:00 p.m.
Dining Center, West Wing
All alumni and faculty are welcome to join us for this wonderful kickoff to the evening’s festivities.

Class of 1966 Presents E. Clyde Lutton 1966 Memorial Fund for Performance Student Program: Placed Memory
9:00–10:30 p.m.
Stokes Hall, Room 106, Multicultural Center
The E. Clyde Lutton 1966 Memorial Fund, established in 2001 by Charlotte Williams Lutton, supports student performances with financial resources to help in the planning, organization, promotion, and production of said work. This year’s awardees, Nick Gandolfo-Lucia ’16 and Evan Hamilton ’17, present Placed Memory, a video archive of material stories. In their production, Gandolfo-Lucia and Hamilton have captured students in a moment in time at Haverford through video interviews concerning personal artifacts. The project was designed to establish and maintain a sense of institutional memory at Haverford.

All class dinners will be held under tents on Founders Green with the exception of 50th Reunion and beyond (see page 15 for tentative assignments for those classes). Theater Affinity Reunion attendees may purchase dinner under the tent as well; seating will be available for those not celebrating a class reunion. Beer and wine are included with dinner. Please note dietary restrictions when you register.

*Class of 1951 Dinner will start at 6:00 p.m.

Haverford College Dining Services Presents “Saturday Class Dinners: A Night in the Caribbean”

Photographs: Recent Acquisitions from 2013 to 2016
10:00 a.m.–5:00 p.m.
Marshall Fine Arts Center, Atrium Gallery
Acquisitions from the 19th century to the present day enrich Haverford’s photography collection. This exhibition is a survey of some of the most important works acquired by gift and purchase, covering diverse genres of photography, from war to fashion. It includes Civil War photographs by George Barnard and Alexander Gardner; 20th and 21st century works by Edward Weston, Mike Disfarmer, Ruth Orkin, Lisette Model, and Andy Warhol; and contemporary works by Marion Belanger, Duane Michals, Jessica Todd Harper, Douglas Mellor, and Isa Leshko. Each current acquisition broadens the scope and utility of this encyclopedic collection of over 5,000 prints, which has its origins in 1870, when Haverford College began to acquire photographs for teaching purposes.

Bookstore Open

Events are subject to change. Visit haverford.edu/alumniweekend or download the Haverford College Alumni app for the latest updates.
HOWARD W. LUTNICK ‘83
Lifetime Achievement Award

In recognition of his unwavering commitment, dedication, and philanthropy to Haverford College, the Alumni Association Executive Committee proudly presents a Lifetime Achievement Award to Howard W. Lutnick ‘83, a man whose life speaks volumes.

Howard is chairman and CEO of Cantor Fitzgerald, LP, one of the world’s leading financial services firms and investment banks, with more than 7,000 institutional clients around the world. Howard joined Cantor Fitzgerald in 1983, the same year he graduated from Haverford. He is also chairman and CEO of BGC Partners, Inc., a leading global brokerage company.

Following the 9/11 attacks on the World Trade Center, which claimed the lives of 658 Cantor and 61 Euro Brokers employees based in New York, Howard guided the rebuilding of the firm. This has included providing over $180 million to help the families of employees who perished and, through the Cantor Fitzgerald Relief Fund, donating more than $292 million to hundreds of charitable causes worldwide as well as relief efforts for Hurricane Sandy and the tornado in Moore, OK.

Howard served on the College’s Board of Managers for 21 years, including as vice-chair and chair. He has endowed five student scholarships and funded or led the efforts to fund the Cantor Fitzgerald Art Gallery; the Douglas B. Gardner ‘83 Integrated Athletic Center, named for his close friend; and the Gary Lutnick Tennis & Track Center, named for his brother. In celebration of the public launch of Lives That Speak: The Campaign for Haverford in 2014, Howard pledged $25 million—the largest individual gift in the College’s history—to transform the library into a space for 21st century learning, research, and scholarship.

Howard serves on the board of the Zachary and Elizabeth M. Fisher Center for Alzheimer’s Disease Research at Rockefeller University, Intrepid Museum Foundation, National September 11 Memorial & Museum, the Solomon Guggenheim Museum Foundation, and The Partnership for New York City. He received the Department of the Navy’s Distinguished Public Service Award—the Navy’s highest honor to non-military personnel.
Hunter Rawlings '66, P’93
Kannerstein Award for Sustained Service to the College
The Kannerstein Award honors the legacy and memory of Gregory Kannerstein '63, an beloved and revered alumnus, and a friend and mentor to many. Greg served Haverford for many years as director of athletics, dean of the College, and professor. This most distinguished annual award given by the Alumni Association honors those who, in a variety of ways, have provided loyal and active support for the work of the College.

Hunter has been a distinguished leader in higher education for several decades and was a lifelong friend of Greg Kannerstein, for whom this award is named. He was professor of classics and history at Cornell University (2006–2011), where he also served as president (1995–2003). Previously he served as professor of classics and vice president for Academic Affairs at the University of Colorado and as president of the University of Iowa (1988–1995). Since 2011 Hunter has been the president of the Association of American Universities.

Among his academic accomplishments, Hunter has published two books and numerous articles on Greek history and historiography. Of particular interest to him are the literary and rhetorical aspects of the work of Thucydidies. A member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, he serves on the board of trustees of the American School of Classical Studies at Athens. Hunter holds a Ph.D. in classics from Princeton University.

Hunter completed 12 years as a member of Haverford’s Board of Managers in 2012. He was co-chair of the Lives That Speak campaign, on the Alumni Association Executive Committee, and a member of the Scholarship Steering Committee during the Educating to Lead, Educating to Serve campaign. In 2011, he established The Hunter R. Rawlings III Family Scholarship Fund. He continues to advise the board and College leadership in times of need. Hunter’s stepdaughter, Ashley P. Slade, graduated from Haverford in 1993.

Gary Emmett ’72, P’04
The William Kaye Award
The Kaye Award is given for exemplary service to the College in the area of career development. The award honors William Kaye ’54, past president of the Alumni Association and a strong advocate for career development resources for alumni and students. Exemplary volunteer service includes providing internships and/or externships, attending job fairs, facilitating career networking, or otherwise helping students and alumni advance their careers.

Gary is professor of pediatrics, Sidney Kimmel Medical College at Thomas Jefferson University (TJU) in Philadelphia. He has practiced primary care and hospital pediatrics at TJU since 1979, as student, resident, attending physician, and teacher. He has served on the staff of several other area hospitals, including Children’s Hospital of Philadelphia (CHOP).

Gary authored the textbook Field Guide to the Normal Newborn as well as many academic papers especially on asthma, jaundice, and immunizations. He also writes a blog on pediatrics for Phily.com. Past president of the Philadelphia Pediatric Association, he is certified by the American Board of Pediatrics, served on the board of the American Academy of Pediatrics, Pennsylvania branch, and is active in the Academic Pediatric Association.

At Haverford, Gary was active in sports, ran student elections, and served as a student manager of College Theater for over 20 productions. He took his first Haverford/Bryn Mawr extern in 1978 at TJU and has since mentored more than 100 Bi-Co students. Most of his research assistants have been Bi-Co alumni, who have since gone on to medical school and careers in science. Once Haverford turned coed, he proposed the addition of childcare to support family attendance at Alumni Weekend, which has since been instituted as HaverCamp. His daughter Ariel Lichtenstein ’04 also attended the College.

ADAM SHULMAN ’01
The Archibald MacIntosh Award
The MacIntosh Award is given for exemplary service to the College in the area of admission. The award honors the late "Mac" MacIntosh ’21, Haverford’s first director of admission, who also served as vice president and twice as acting president of the College. Exemplary service includes interviewing prospective students and submitting summary reports; representing Haverford at college fairs and school nights; and hosting interview days, yield parties, or frosh parties.

After earning a J.D. from Duke University Law School, Adam joined the New York City office of Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP as an associate in the firm’s corporate practice, specializing in mergers and acquisitions. He subsequently took an in-house role at Globe Specialty Metals, one of the world’s largest producers of silicon and silicon-based alloys. At Globe, Adam led the creation of a joint venture with a local mining company in Nigeria, one of the first investments by a U.S. company in that country’s mineral mining industry after the adoption of new regulations.

Adam is now associate general counsel for Celanese Corporation, a Fortune 500 chemical and specialty materials company in Dallas. He acts as North American division counsel for the company’s $4 billion acetyl chemicals business. He is also its chief attorney for mergers and acquisitions and recently closed an $800 million joint venture to construct the largest methanol plant in the United States. Recently, the company designated Adam as chief competition law counsel, to ensure the company’s compliance with increasingly complex international laws.

Since 2011, Adam has served as an alumni volunteer, interviewing prospective Fords in North Texas. While at Haverford, Adam co-hosted The Lerner and Lowe End Theory, a radio show devoted to show tunes and hip-hop—15 years too early, given the popularity of the musical Hamilton.
JOSEPH RONAN ’76
The Charles Perry Award
The Perry Award is given for exemplary service to the College in the area of fundraising. The award honors Chuck Perry ’36, who served as associate director of development from 1954 to 1958 and as the director of annual giving for the next 21 years. Exemplary service includes serving as a class volunteer, on a reunion committee, or in another role supporting the work of Institutional Advancement.

A philosophy major at Haverford, Joseph also studied German, Russian, Greek, mathematics, and physics. Although not a Quaker himself, he was highly influenced by his experience at Haverford as well as Friends Select School in Philadelphia. He has fond recollections of the philosophy department and faculty members such as Bill Davidson, Louis Green, and Joe Russo. After considering graduate school in philosophy, he attended New York University Law School and has spent more than 30 years as a tax and executive compensation lawyer. Joseph also serves as an adjunct law professor at Villanova University Law School.

Joseph has served on the board of Friends Select, including as chair, and is currently clerk of the school’s development committee. A former member and chair of Haverford’s Annual Fund Executive Committee, he now helps coordinate fundraising and reunion events for his class. He received the College’s William Sheppard Award for Service in Alumni Activities as well as the Meritorious Service Award from Friends Select. He has also held leadership positions with Philabundance, Philadelphia Volunteer Lawyers for the Arts, and bar groups.

Joseph and his wife, Lara (a neurologist at Dartmouth College), now live in Vermont, where he is an admissions representative for Haverford. He is currently finishing an M.A. in English at Rutgers–Camden, with a focus on Wallace Stevens.
Joshua Miller ‘96
The Charles Perry Award
(see description on page 27)
Josh is currently a private investor and consultant on alternative investments. He spent over 13 years at New York–based hedge fund Taconic Capital Advisors, LP, where he was a partner, portfolio manager, and co-head of credit. He began his investing career at J. P. Morgan where he was a trader on the risk arbitrage desk. An economics major at Haverford, Josh earned an M.B.A. from The Wharton School at the University of Pennsylvania in 2001.

Josh has supported Haverford’s mission and been active with College alumni in a number of ways, including in the area of career development. At programs such as the Wall Street Summit he interacted with current students, critiquing resumes, helping to hone interview skills, and providing insight on how to market a liberal arts degree. He currently serves as a member of the College’s Investment Committee for the endowment and as co-chair of the Lives That Speak campaign.

Martin Lehfeldt ‘61
The William E. Sheppard Award
The Sheppard Award is given for exemplary service to the College in the area of alumni activities. The award honors the late Director of Alumni Relations Bill Sheppard ’36. Exemplary service includes participation in Haverford’s regional events, affinity activities, or reunion programs.

Martin is a self-employed author, consultant, and speaker, with 50 years of professional experience and volunteer service in the nonprofit sector. While completing an M.Div. at Union Theological Seminary, Martin worked as a newspaper reporter for the Youngstown Vindicator in Ohio. After four years as a program officer of the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation in Princeton, NJ, he became vice president for development at Clark College (now Clark Atlanta University) and was subsequently director of development for the Atlanta University Center.

In 1979 Martin formed his own consulting firm, providing fundraising, strategic planning, and organizational development services to hundreds of nonprofits. He served as president of the Southeastern Council of Foundations (an organization of grant makers in 11 states) until 2008 as well as on the boards of numerous nonprofits.

Upon his retirement, the Southeastern Council published Thinking About Things, a collection of his newsletter columns over 11 years. Martin self-published Notes from a Non-Profitable Life and co-authored The Sacred Call, a biography of civil rights attorney Donald L. Hollowell. He is currently working on The Promise, a history of foundation activity in the South. Martin has been president of the Class of 1961 since graduation. In 1976 he received the Haverford Award for Service to Society.
JULIE MIN CHAYET ’91
The William E. Sheppard Award
Julie is managing director and market trust executive for U.S. Trust, Bank of America Private Wealth Management. With extensive knowledge of trust design and administration, she works directly with individuals, families, institutions, and foundations to develop and oversee investment and trust relationships. Julie previously worked in the New York office of Fiduciary Trust Company International as trust counsel and in business development. She also practiced law in both New York and Connecticut.

She holds an M.P.A. from Columbia University’s School of International and Public Affairs and a J.D. from Fordham Law School. A former board member of the Estate Planning Council of New York City, Inc., she is a member of the New York Bar Association, Section on Trusts and Estates, and the National Asian Pacific American Bar Association. Julie is also president-elect of the Connecticut Chapter of the Fordham Law Association. In 2015 she joined the Multicultural Alumni Action Group (MAAG) as an advisory board member and currently serves on the MAAG Mentorship Initiative (MMI).

Julie’s volunteer activities for the College have been extensive, including serving her class as an annual giving volunteer since 1991 and on the Reunion Committee for five reunions. She has supported career development as well as Institutional Advancement in several capacities. She was the New York regional chair throughout the 1990s, and her roles on the Alumni Association Executive Committee (AAEC) have spanned from student member to president.

JUAN WILLIAMS ’76, P’11
The Distinguished Achievement Award for Outstanding Contributions in a Profession
The Distinguished Achievement Award recognizes alumni who have achieved personal success, made outstanding contributions to their fields, achieved recognition by their colleagues, and brought honor to themselves and to Haverford through their distinguished achievements.

Juan is one of the nation’s leading political writers, television personalities, and public intellectuals. A political analyst for Fox Television, he is also host of The Five, a popular daily news program, and a regular panelist on Fox News Sunday. He was formerly an award-winning Washington Post columnist, White House correspondent, NPR senior news correspondent, and the host of NPR’s national talk show Talk of the Nation.

His seven books include the newly published We the People: The Modern-Day Figures Who Have Reshaped and Affirmed the Founding Fathers’ Vision of America (2016). Williams is also the author of Thurgood Marshall: American Revolutionary (1998)—a New York Times notable book of the year—and the best-seller Eyes on the Prize: America’s Civil Rights Years (1987), which is now part of the standard history curriculum in many colleges and universities. His book Enough: The Phony Leaders, Dead-End Movements, and Culture of Failure That Are Undermining Black America—and What We Can Do About It (2007) ignited debate with a bold analysis of black leadership and the need to return to the values of the Civil Rights Movement. PBS has collaborated with him on several documentary series.

Having interviewed the last five U.S. presidents, Juan is in constant contact with American political leaders in Congress and with the Supreme Court. He has won numerous journalism awards for his writing and investigative reporting as well as an Emmy Award for TV documentary writing. Juan has appeared on programs ranging from Meet the Press to Oprah, co-hosted Crossfire, and has hosted America’s Black Forum for a decade. He has also written for The New Yorker, Atlantic Monthly, GQ, the New Republic, and Ebony. His son, Raphael (Raffi) Williams is a member of the Haverford Class of 2011.

‘60, one of the outstanding athletes in the history of Haverford College, who committed his life both to the betterment of humankind and to international understanding.

David has spent 45 years devoted to Quaker education. In 2011 he retired after 23 years as headmaster of Friends’ Central School in Wynnewood, PA. Prior to that he spent a total of 22 years at Germantown Friends School in Philadelphia, initially as teacher, coach, and community liaison and later as dean of students, upper school principal, and dean of faculty.

David earned a master’s in ancient history from the University of Pennsylvania in 1971. His involvement with Haverford athletics extended well beyond playing varsity soccer, basketball, and baseball. In 1968 the College invited him to coach the junior varsity soccer team and then the varsity squad, which he did for seven years while teaching and serving as co-principal at Germantown Friends. He has also served on the College’s Athletic Advisory Committee.

Long dedicated to the integration of academics and athletics, David has extensive experience with camps and other programs serving community children. He founded a basketball and reading/math clinic at Germantown Friends and a similar program at Friends’ Central. He also worked at Haverford’s Serendipity Day Camp, Swarthmore Upward Bound, and the Germantown Boys and Girls Club, where he served as a board member. He is currently on an advisory board seeking to build a youth basketball center in North Philadelphia that features a strong academic component. His son, David Felsen Jr. ‘92, is also a Haverford graduate.
The Haverford Award for Service to Society

The Haverford Award supports and demonstrates the College’s concern for the application of knowledge to socially useful ends. It rewards alumni who best reflect Haverford’s concern with the uses to which they put their knowledge, humanity, initiative, and individuality.

Douglas first engaged with the history of Africa at Haverford and began his Ph.D. research on the history of southern (later South) Sudan at UCLA, shortly after the end of Sudan’s first civil war in 1972. The renewal of civil war in the 1980s launched twenty-two years during which he divided his time between academia, as a publisher of African studies, and forays into politically complex and sometimes dangerous territories.

He put his pre-war experience in southern Sudan to use in wartime relief operations, working with various international agencies in non-government-held areas. His book The Root Causes of Sudan’s Civil Wars (2003) analyzes the historic and structural causes of country’s recurring cycles of conflict. A resource person at the Sudan peace talks in 2003, he was appointed after a peace agreement in 2005 to the Abyei Boundaries Commission, to investigate a disputed territory along the border between Sudan and South Sudan.

Douglas continues to work with both governmental and non-governmental organizations involved in South Sudan’s post-war reconstruction, particularly with vocational training and the revival of a national archive. Since the outbreak of civil war in South Sudan in 2013 he has contributed to internal debates about peace-building and governance. In 2014 the South Sudanese community in Canada invited Douglas to give the Bertrand Russell Peace Lecture at MacMaster University.

The Young Alumni Award for Accomplishments in Leadership

The Young Alumni Award recognizes established and future leaders among Haverford alumni who have graduated in the last 10 years. They have shown great promise and accomplishment in their chosen professions and/or in community, public, or humanitarian service, demonstrating leadership and substantial commitment to the mission of the College.

Since her time at Haverford, Jenny has worked to address health and human rights issues, both domestically and abroad. This work began in Philadelphia, at the Center for Hunger-Free...

Communities at Drexel University School of Public Health. Through a fellowship from the Center for Peace and Global Citizenship’s Haverford House, she helped to launch Witnesses to Hunger, a research and advocacy program (featured in the 2012 documentary film A Place at the Table). While serving as manager of the program, she completed her M.P.H. at Drexel.

In 2013, Jenny moved to rural Liberia to work with Last Mile Health. Founded by survivors of the Liberian civil war, the organization strives to save lives in remote villages, including guiding a response to the unprecedented Ebola epidemic in 2014. As director of program implementation, she now oversees on-the-ground operations, supporting more than 250 community health workers in delivering primary health services to 50,000 Liberians in remote villages.

An anthropology major at Haverford, Jenny concentrated in peace and conflict studies. She was a member of the women’s Ultimate Frisbee team, the Sneetches, and has played ever since, including in her current home of Liberia.

MARILOU ALLEN
The Friend of Haverford College Award
The Friend Award is given for exemplary and sustained service to the College, and loyal and active support for the mission of the College, by a member of the greater Haverford community.

Marilou joined the College in 1981, directing the Women’s Center (which opened the following year) and the community service program, Eighth Dimension. She empowered students to engage in a range of service projects and supported the College’s transformation into a fully coeducational institution, with a network of resources that has become a national model. She also served as one of the College’s Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) Officers.

A native of Ardmore, Marilou has fostered a relationship with Haverford since the 1960s, when she began working with Serendipity Day Camp, which her brother co-founded. An active Girl Scout leader, she was devoted to providing single-parent families with an affordable summer camp for their children. She played a significant role when the camp reopened in 1984.

Marilou earned a bachelor’s degree and a master’s in administration leadership from Antioch College and later a master’s in law and social policy from the Bryn Mawr School of Social Work. Haverford awarded her an honorary doctorate in 2000, and she received the National Women’s Studies Association (NWSA) Founders Award in 2013. She retired from the College in August 2015.
FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Where do I go when I arrive on campus?
Please come directly to the Whitehead Campus Center registration desk to check in and receive your Reunion tote bag and any updated class-specific information. If you are staying in the dormitories for the weekend, you will receive your room key and housing assignment at this time. The registration desk is open 24 hours a day between noon on Thursday and 7:00 p.m. on Saturday.

Where is our class housing?
Air-conditioned dormitory rooms are available for Thursday night through Sunday morning, and those who register in advance will be assigned a room upon arrival on campus. Within each room you will find bed linens, blankets, two towels, and basic toiletries for each guest.
Only single beds are available. In most cases there is only one bed per room (although there are some doubles).
Private baths are not available.

What if I don’t want to stay in a dorm?
Some alumni prefer the convenience of a local hotel.
The College has reserved blocks of rooms at several hotels. When making your reservation please indicate that you are calling for the Haverford College Alumni Weekend rate. For additional information, visit haverford.edu/alumniweekend.

What meals are available?
We offer all alumni Friday breakfast, lunch, and dinner;
Saturday breakfast, lunch, and dinner; and Sunday brunch. On Saturday night, each Reunion class has its own class dinner. We can accommodate restricted diets;
please indicate any restrictions when you register.

Where can I park on campus?
The South Lot (see map, page 18) is the closest to the Whitehead Campus Center registration desk; however, alumni may park in any marked space, including those normally reserved for staff or students.

Are children welcome?
Yes! Alumni with young children may bring sleeping bags for them to “camp” in the room. There is no charge for young campers, but please indicate on your registration form how many will stay overnight. In addition, children ages 3–13 are invited to join HaverCamp, Saturday’s daylong camp session. (See description, page 10.)
Activities include a nature walk, games, arts and crafts, and a trip to the family carnival. Unfortunately, we are unable to provide care for children under the age of three or who are not potty-trained.
ALUMNI WEEKEND 2016
REGISTRATION INFORMATION
Pre-registering for Alumni Weekend is the most efficient and cost effective way to participate. All attendees of Alumni Weekend 2016 must pre-register. Early registration ends April 22, 2016. The final registration deadline is May 13, 2016. Register early for the discounted price! There will be a $5 surcharge on all meals at walk-in registration.

You may register for Alumni Weekend three ways:
1. Online (preferred):
Log in at fords.haverford.edu. From the main page, you can view the schedule for the weekend and register for events. Questions or problems? Call Alumni and Parent Relations at 610-896-1004 or e-mail alumni@haverford.edu.

2. Mail
Return the enclosed registration form with payment (personal check payable to Haverford College, or use Visa, MasterCard, American Express, or Discover) postmarked by May 13, 2016. To receive the discounted price, be sure to send your postmarked payment in before the early deadline of April 22.
Mail the form to:
Alumni and Parent Relations
Haverford College
370 Lancaster Avenue
Haverford, PA 19041-1392

3. Fax
Fax the completed form (with credit card information) to Alumni and Parent Relations: 610-896-1137.

IMPORTANT REGISTRATION INFORMATION
• Please register for all events you plan to attend. This helps us estimate how much food and beverage to provide and ensure that plenty of seats are available. Some events may not be open to walk-in guests. There will be a $5 surcharge for meals added at walk-in registration.
• There will be no refunds after May 18.
• Dorm keys must be returned to the key desk in the Whitehead Campus Center or at brunch in the Dining Center before you leave at the end of the weekend. (You will be charged $150 for lost or unreturned keys.)
• If you register online, you will receive a confirmation email. If you register via phone or mail, you will not automatically be notified. However, you may call the office at 610-896-1004 to confirm that your payment has been received.
