DEAR ALUMNI,

Please mark your calendars to return to Haverford for Alumni Weekend: June 1–3, 2018. This year’s celebration will include many exciting opportunities for alumni, families, friends, and campus community members. No matter what you are looking for—classroom-style lectures with faculty, yoga classes, a trip to The Barnes Foundation, or class parties in memorable locations—all of this, and more, awaits. Meanwhile, HaverCamp makes it easy to bring the whole family back for Reunion. With three childcare sessions available throughout the day on Saturday, plus a Family Carnival on Lloyd Green (open to everyone), there will be fun for all, including “first-time Fords.”

One of the main attractions of the festivities will be Saturday’s Food Truck and Music Festival on Founders Green, which will showcase alumni bands and offer a variety of cuisines accommodating all tastes. (See page 37 for details.) Several classes have organized Bi-Co activities throughout the weekend. And for those of you who haven’t been back to campus in a while, I encourage you to take advantage of a variety of tours, which will feature our new dorms, recent Sharpless and VCAM renovations, and class trees, among other campus highlights. These are just a sampling of the many events you will read about in the following pages.

Please join me in thanking the volunteers on your Class Reunion committees who have worked so hard to assemble an appealing program. Register starting April 2 using the form on page 35 or online at hav.to/alumniweekend.

On behalf of everyone here on campus, I hope to see you this June!

Kim Benston
President

Opening Reception for The American Monument
5:00–7:00 p.m.
Marshall Fine Arts Center, Atrium Gallery
Join us for the opening of this unique exhibition. Lee Friedlander (born 1934) is one of America’s most accomplished photographers of the Social Landscape and winner of countless awards and prestigious fellowships. The photographs in Friedlander’s American Monument series, made from the 1960s through 1975, reveal monuments as noble and idiosyncratic—not isolated celebrations of civic memory, but part of a complex visual and cultural environment. Friedlander selected 213 images to be published in a book (1976) that became a classic, much sought after by collectors; it was republished this year with an additional essay by Friedlander scholar Peter Galassi. The exhibition showcases 60 pages from the College’s first edition and recently purchased second edition. Given how American monuments have become topical of late, these clear and lucid photographs present them as cultural expressions open to multiple meanings.

Arboretum Tour: “Reminiscing and Renewal: A Tour of Class Trees” 🔔
8:30–9:30 a.m.
Meet on the Founders Hall steps
Don’t miss this historic tour of campus led by one of our staff horticulturists.

Yoga 🔔
8:30–9:30 a.m.
Douglas B. Gardner ’83 Integrated Athletic Center (GIAC), Dana Swan Room
Breathe in. Join Dana Miller ’86, of New York Yoga, and re-align your spirit with the core values you adopted as an undergraduate through the mind-body practice that is yoga. Let this flowing, vinyasa-style class be your “welcome home” to what makes Haverford, Haverford. Set to an indie and classic rock soundtrack to get you energized for the weekend’s events! Bring your own mat or borrow one. Some familiarity with yoga is helpful. Email questions to Dana at stayatomyoga@gmail.com.

Class of ’73 Breakfast With Honored Guests 🔔
8:30–10:15 a.m.
Dining Center, Bryn Mawr Room
The Class of ’73 continues a tradition of meeting with its faculty, coaches, and mentors. Classmates and guests should go through the buffet line and then retire to the Bryn Mawr Room for conversation.

Hard-Hat Tour of the Library under Renovation 🔔
9:00–10:00 a.m.
Meet outside the Library
Magill Library closed at the end of the Fall 2017 semester and will reopen as the Lutnick Library when construction is completed. Join Librarian of the College Terry Snyder for a chance to take a look at the changes to come. The historic parts of the Library will be preserved, and Lutnick Library will honor the Haverford tradition and heritage while embracing its own identity, beauty, and gravitas. Space is limited, and pre-registration is required. Please sign up only if you are committed to attending. Learn more by visiting haverford.edu/library-building-project

HaverCamp: Open 🔔
9:00 a.m.–11:00 p.m.
Ira De A. Reid House
Daylong childcare services for children ages 3–13 are staffed by energetic Haverford students and overseen by a certified teacher. Three sessions (morning, afternoon, and evening) each cost $35 per child. Activities include outdoor games, arts and crafts, an evening movie screening (G-rated), and a supervised trip to the Family Fun Fair (see page 11 for details). Unfortunately we are unable to provide care for children who are under the age of three or not toilet-trained. Upon arrival, sign in your child at the camp’s headquarters at the Ira De A. Reid House. You may stop in to see your child at any time throughout the day. To maintain a safe counselor-to-camper ratio, pre-registration is required; there is a cap on the number of campers we are able to accept and we are unable to accommodate walk-ins. The Ira De A. Reid House is closed to visitors during Alumni Weekend, with the exception of HaverCamps and their parents.

Class of ’68 Presents: “Statues, Monuments, and the Moral Tide of History” 🔔
9:00–10:15 a.m.
Chase Hall, Chase Auditorium
This panel discussion stems from events in 2017 that have wider historical implications. Three distinguished class members—novelist John Hough ’68 and historians Jim Davidson ’68 and Jack Rakove ’68—join esteemed Emeritus Professor of History Roger Lane to share their views. Then the discussion opens up to questions and comments from the audience, in a traditional Haverford colloquium style. Open to all alumni.

Members of the Class of ’73 gather to share where they’ve been, where they are, and where they’re headed.

2:00–3:00 p.m.
Chase Hall, Chase Auditorium
Provost Frances Blase will discuss the Haverford faculty’s scholarly and pedagogical interests, and present an overview of the undergraduate curriculum as well as the composition of today’s student body.

2:00–3:15 p.m.
VCAM Screening Room (seating is limited)
The documentary Clínica de Migrantes paints a compassionate portrait of patients at Puentes de Salud, a nonprofit in South Philadelphia. Many of these individuals left their families behind in Latin America to come here and perform physically exhausting labor for meager wages. The short film follows the tireless staffs who treat 10,000 patients each year with limited space and little funding. As Puentes plans a larger facility to accommodate rapidly increasing demand, Executive Director Steve Larson and his team must find a way to keep their practice running despite obstacles at every turn. We will welcome Dr. Larson for a Q&A after the film. Advance registration offered to the Class of ’83; walk-ins welcome if space allows.
SATURDAY, JUNE 2, CONTINUED

Class of ‘63 Presents: Perspectives on Higher Education
2:00–4:00 p.m.
Sharpless Auditorium
The Class of ‘63 invites all alumni to engage in a moderated Q&A panel session about the current state and future of higher education, featuring: Rob Fairman, assistant provost and professor of biology; Eric Hartman, executive director of the Center for Peace and Global Citizenship; Darin Hayton, associate professor of history; and Terry Snyder, librarian of the College. Bill Kelley ‘63 will serve as moderator.

Class of ‘78 Presents: Professor Linda Gerstein on “The Historian’s Mantra”
2:30–3:30 p.m.
Hilles Hall Auditorium, room 109
The historian’s mantra is “Continuity and change.” The Class of ’18 is (and isn’t) like the Class of ’78. Russia in 2018 is (and isn’t) like Russia in 1978. Join Professor Gerstein for this insightful discussion.

Class of ‘83 Presents: “Making a Difference: Perpetuating Haverford’s Ideals”
3:30–5:00 p.m.
VCAM Screening Room (seating is limited)
Class of ‘83 panelists will describe the individual paths they took in the pursuit of greater social justice and making the world a more peaceful place. Panelists include David Castro ’83, Rusty Reno ’83, and John Swomley ’83. Richard Glaser ’83 will serve as moderator.

Office of Multicultural Affairs (OMA) Open House
4:00–5:00 p.m.
Stokes Hall, room 106—Multicultural Center
This event is held in partnership with the Multicultural Alumni Action Group (MAAG). MAAG exists to ensure Haverford is an inclusive community where all Haverfordians can thrive—from prospective students to seasoned alums. The Open House is an opportunity to warmly welcome back alumni of color and provide a space to share recent efforts to support Haverford’s growing multicultural community. With the ongoing partnership and support of the President’s and other administrative offices, it is MAAG’s desire to continue to cultivate alumni/student mentoring relationships and MAAG leadership pipelines to sustain our mission over time. Please join us!

Class of ’78 Presents: Steve Sawyer ’78 and Keith Schneider ’78 on “Changing the World”
4:00–5:00 p.m.
Chase Auditorium
In an era of troubling and undeniable environmental challenges, Sawyer and Schneider have dedicated their careers and lives to the pursuit of meaningful action to protect and preserve our global environment. Both have made sustained contributions to raise awareness and impact our environment through peaceful, persistent, and informed action. To celebrate our 40th Reunion, the two share their respective journeys.

REUNION CLASS HOUSING

Dormitory rooms are available Thursday night through Sunday morning. The price is $75 per person, whether you stay one, two, or three nights.

In each room you will find bed linens, blankets, basic toiletries, and two towels for each guest. You may want to bring additional towels, hangers, and toiletries. All rooms have air conditioning. There are no double beds or private baths.

If you stay in the dorms, you must return your room key at either the registration desk in Whitehead Campus Center or at brunch at the Dining Center on Sunday morning, or you will incur a $150 fee (as the College is required to change the locks on that room).

Some alumni prefer the convenience of a local hotel. The College has reserved blocks of rooms at a number of local hotels (list at hav.to/almuniweekend). When making your reservation, please indicate that you are calling for the Haverford College Alumni Weekend rate.

For directions to campus, visit hav.to/directions

2018 ALUMNI ASSOCIATION AWARDS

AN ANNUAL HIGHLIGHT OF ALUMNI WEEKEND IS RECOGNIZING ALUMNI WHO HAVE MADE OUTSTANDING CONTRIBUTIONS IN VARIOUS WAYS.

This year, the Alumni Association honors 16 individuals for exceptional service to the College, professional excellence, and significant contributions to society.

PETE DORWART ’63 P’96
The Kannerstein Award for Sustained Service to the College
The Kannerstein Award honors the legacy and memory of Gregory Kannerstein ’63, an honored and revered alumnus, and a friend and mentor to many. Greg served Haverford for many years as director of athletics, dean of the College, and professor. This most distinguished award given by the Alumni Association honors those who, in a variety of ways, have provided loyal and active support for the work of the College.

William (Pete) Dorwart, a music engraver and cellist, spent most of his professional career as a clinical chemist for the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania and Bryn Mawr Hospital. After retiring from chemistry he took up the creation of new editions of old operettas. Companies around the world have used his work, including the Metropolitan Opera of New York. While at Haverford, Pete majored in biology and was a member of the Glee Club and the track and basketball teams. He earned his Ph.D. in molecular biology from the University of Pennsylvania in 1969. Pete has been involved with Haverford on every level as a committed member of the community. Starting as an alumnus and then as a parent and lifetime member of the Arboretum Association, he has dedicated time and effort to Haverford through his Class Reunion volunteer efforts and his contributions to the beautification of the campus, with wooden pieces of art and furniture he has created from felled campus trees. Pete is married to Bonnie Brice Dorwart BMC ’64 and they have three sons: Randy Dorwart ’96, Brice, and Michael. Pete and Bonnie reside in Bala Cynwyd, PA.

ELON SPAR ’83 P’20
Kannerstein Award for Sustained Service to the College
Elon Spar was the chief executive officer of Cantor Fitzgerald Europe and Asia. He is currently building an exchange to trade movie box office futures. NEHAD CHOWDHURY ’98
The William Kaye Award
The Kaye Award is given for exemplary service to the College in the area of career development. The award honors William Kaye ’54, past president of the Alumni Association and a strong advocate for career development resources for alumni and students. Exemplary volunteer service includes providing student and/or externships, attending job fairs, facilitating career networking, or otherwise helping students and alumni advance their careers.

Nehad Chowdhury is a managing director at Citigroup in New York, with responsibility for the firm’s internal views on global macroeconomic and country risks. He received a B.A. in economics at Haverford, where he played cricket for all four years and served as a campus tour guide. In 2003, he earned an M.P.A. in international development from the Harvard Kennedy School. Prior to Citigroup, Nehad spent most of his career at Goldman Sachs but has also worked at the International Monetary Fund, Bluebay Asset Management, and McKinsey & Company. As a banker and policymaker, he has also been an advisor to numerous governments around the world on public finances and capital markets transactions. Both personally and professionally, Nehad has been a strong advocate for Haverford students with an interest in finance, consulting, and public policy. At each institution where he’s worked he has promoted the recruitment of Haverford alumni. He returns to campus to participate in career development initiatives and mentors current students and alumni regarding their careers. Nehad also serves as an admission representative and a member of the Advisory Board for Fords in Finance. He and his wife, Ashna Ahmed, reside in New York City with their toddler.

COLIN RULE ’93
The Archibald MacIntosh Award
The MacIntosh Award is given for exemplary service to the College in the area of admission. The award honors the late “Mac” MacIntosh ’21, Haverford’s first director of admission, who also served as vice president and twice as acting president of the College. Exemplary service includes interviewing prospective students and submitting summary reports; representing Haverford at college fairs and school nights; and hosting interview days, yield parties, or first-year student parties.

Colin Rule is vice president of online dispute resolution for Tyler Technologies. He is also currently co-chair of the Advisory Board of the National Center for Technology and Dispute Resolution at UMass-Amherst and a non-resident fellow at the Gould Center for Conflict Resolution at Stanford Law School. In 2011, Colin co-founded Modria, a provider of online dispute resolution (ODR) services, and served as chief executive officer and chief operating officer until Tyler acquired Modria in 2017. Formerly, he served as the first director of online dispute resolution for eBay and PayPal. After earning a B.A. in political science and peace studies, Colin received an M.P.P. in conflict resolution and technology from Harvard University’s Kennedy School of Government in 1999. At Haverford, he was president of Students’ Council, was a Customs person, and sang with the Chamber Singers, the Humtones, and the Hiram L. Weinstein All-Star Memorial Funk Project. Colin is an active admission interviewer who enjoys sharing Haverford’s ideals with potential students; his objective is to ensure these applicants will uphold Haverford’s ideals if he recommends them for admission. He also serves as a Reunion and regional volunteer. He is married to Cheryl Sternman Rule ’92. Colin and Cheryl have two sons: Andrew and Alexander. The family resides in San Jose, CA.

Jerry Anderson ’73
The Charles Perry Award
The Perry Award is given for exemplary service to the College in the area of fundraising. The award honors Chuck Perry ’36, who served as associate director of development from 1954 to 1958 and as the director of annual giving for the next 21 years. Exemplary service includes serving as a class volunteer, on a reunion committee, or in another role supporting the work of Institutional Advancement. Gerard (Jerry) Anderson is a professor of health policy and management and professor of international health at the Johns Hopkins University Bloomberg School of Public Health, professor of medicine at the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine, and director of the Johns Hopkins Center for Hospital Finance and Management. He received a B.A. in economics from Haverford and was a member of the cricket team as an undergraduate. In 1973, Jerry earned a Ph.D. in public policy from the University of Pennsylvania. Prior to his arrival at Johns Hopkins, Jerry held various positions at the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, where he helped develop Medicare prospective payment legislation. He has directed reviews of health systems for the World Bank and USAID in multiple countries, authored two books on health care payment policy, published over 300 peer-reviewed articles, and testified in Congress more than 50 times. He also serves on multiple editorial committees. As an alumnus, Jerry has been a steadfast admission representative and giving advocate on behalf of Haverford. He has led his Class Reunion Gift campaigns since his 25th Reunion in 1998, when the class established its own scholarship fund. Jerry is married to Judith Peres, and the couple resides in Chevy Chase, MD, with a daughter, Anna, who lives nearby.

Rich Lyon ’68
The Charles Perry Award
Rich Lyon is a corporate lawyer who has concentrated most recently on technology and technology-driven transactions in the U.S. and Europe. Transferring to Haverford after his sophomore year, Rich earned a B.A. in English, followed by a law degree from Harvard in 1971. He was a member of the Haverford cricket and basketball teams and a student representative on a Board of Managers committee established to study new athletic facilities. Rich continued this work as an alumnus, actively working on the plans for what is now the Douglas B. Gardner ’83 Integrated Athletic Center (GIAC). Rich has been a longtime giving advocate for his Class Reunions; a member of the National Gifts Committee/Athletic Steering Committee during the Educating to Lead, Educating to Serve campaign; and a leadership gifts advocate during the recent Lives That Speak campaign, on the Annual Fund Leadership Committee. He has also volunteered as an admission representative. Rich spent most of his career at large law firms, including Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP, and served in-house as the North American General Counsel for the Ericsson Group, an international telecommunications company. His corporate practice focused on outsourcing, structure, and financing of the acquisition and exploitation of intellectual capital, licensing, distribution, joint ventures, and other strategic alliances. A longtime arbitrator, Rich been expanding his work in mediation and dispute resolution since moving to Bozeman, MT in 2012, while working in general management and stewardship positions with a number of conservation nonprofits.

ELDORA ELLISON ’88
The Haverford College Alumni Distinguished Achievement Award for Outstanding Contributions in a Profession
The Distinguished Achievement Award recognizes alumni who have achieved personal success, made outstanding contributions to their fields, achieved recognition by their colleagues, and brought honor to themselves and to Haverford through their distinguished achievements.
Eldora Ellison is a director (partner) in the Biotechnology/Chemical and the Litigation Practice Groups at Sterne, Kessler, Goldstein & Fox, an intellectual property (IP) specialty firm in Washington, DC. She earned a B.S. in biology from Haverford, a Ph.D. in biochemistry and molecular cell biology from Cornell University in 1993, and a J.D. from Georgetown Law School in 1999. Over the course of her career, Eldora has earned recognition as a leading IP lawyer, particularly in the life sciences. She represents large multinational corporations, start-up companies, and nonprofit organizations to secure, protect, and defend their patent rights. Eldora is one of three members of Sterne Kessler’s Executive Committee that oversees the budget and management of the firm’s 130 attorneys and 200 professional staff. In 2015, the National Law Journal recognized her as one of its “Top 50 Litigation Trailblazers,” and Law360 named her an “MVP in Life Sciences.” Managing Intellectual Property nominated her for its “PTAB Litigator of the Year” award, and 2018 marks the sixth consecutive year the publication has named her an “IP Star.” Often quoted in news outlets for her analyses of developments in patent law, Eldora is a contributing author of Patent Office Litigation (2nd ed., 2017). She resides in Edgewater, MD.

CARL GRUNFELD ’68 P’10
The Haverford College Alumni Distinguished Achievement Award for Outstanding Contributions in a Profession
Carl Grunfeld is a professor of medicine at the University of California, San Francisco, and chief, Division of Metabolism & Endocrinology, and associate chief of staff for Research and Development at the Department of Veterans Affairs Medical Center, San Francisco. He earned his B.S. in biology from Haverford, where he was a Customs chair and a photographer for the paper and yearbook. He went on to earn a Ph.D. in pharmacology and an M.D. from Albert Einstein Medical College in 1974 and 1975, respectively. Carl is both a basic scientist and clinical investigator whose research has focused on the effects of infection and inflammation on metabolism and body composition. His group determined why people waste away with AIDS and developed therapies to improve muscle mass. Carl provided medical care for many patients with AIDS. His laboratory demonstrated how infections such as HIV and inflammatory diseases such as rheumatoid arthritis cause heart disease by turning HDL, known as “good cholesterol,” into “bad cholesterol.” Carl is married to Gay Grunfeld, and they have three children: Olivia Danforth ’10, Evelyn, and William. Carl and Gay reside in San Francisco, CA.

BRUCE DAVIDSON ’73
The Haverford Award for Service to Humanity
The Haverford Award supports and demonstrates the College’s concern for the application of knowledge to socially useful ends. It rewards alumni who best reflect Haverford’s concern with the uses to which they put their knowledge, humanity, initiative, and individuality. Bruce Davidson practices pulmonary and critical care medicine with more than 40 years in research and clinical respiratory disease. Bruce earned a B.S. in biology and chemistry from Haverford, where he played attack on the lacrosse team. He earned an M.D. from Temple in 1977.
2018 ALUMNI ASSOCIATION AWARDS

and an M.P.H. from Johns Hopkins in 1987. Bruce has spent most of his career in public service, with residency training in public and VA hospitals. In the U.S. and six developing countries, he worked with scientists from the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases to register the first oral rotavirus vaccine against infant gastroenteritis. His research in blood clots to the lung led to new discoveries and seven papers he co-authored for the New England Journal of Medicine. During the U.S. tuberculosis (TB) epidemic in the 1990s, Bruce was recruited to run Philadelphia’s TB Control Program and was the first physician elected president of the National TB Controllers Association. The treatment clinic he established in 1995, at 305 South 13th Street in Philadelphia, still operates there today. As a teaching physician, public official, and leader of professional medical organizations, Bruce has mentored other doctors and helped develop educational institutions in Qatar, Saudi Arabia, and other countries. Recently his intervention led to modifications of a National Institutes of Health–sponsored study that had been mistreating non-consenting asthmatic children. His decades of applying compassion, dignity, and science in public health and volunteer clinics with indigent patients exemplifies the best of Haverford’s humanitarian ideals. Bruce resides in Burien, WA. His favorite comic strip is Piranha Club.

STEVEN DRIZIN ’83
The Haverford Award for Service to Humanity
Steven Drizin is a clinical professor at Northwestern Pritzker School of Law. Steven received a B.A. in political science from Haverford with honors. In 1986, he earned a J.D. from Northwestern Law, where he returned to teach and practice in 1991. From 1993 to 2005, Steven was the supervising attorney at the Law School’s Children and Family Justice Center. His work at the Center, particularly his leadership in the successful effort to outlaw the juvenile death penalty, led the American Bar Association to award him its highest honor for juvenile justice advocacy, the Livingston Hall Award, in 2005. In 2008, Steven co-founded the Center on Wrongful Convictions of Youth, the first innocence organization in the country to focus on wrongfully convicted defendants under the age of 18 at the time of their alleged crimes. Steven’s research interests involve the study of false and coerced confessions, and federal and state courts—including the U.S. Supreme Court—frequently cite his scholarship. Recently, one of Steven’s more high-profile cases was represented as a central storyline in the Netflix docuseries “Making a Murderer.” Through his steadfast efforts, Steven has become a national expert on issues related to juvenile justice and wrongful conviction. His representation of youthful offenders exemplifies Haverford’s commitment to restorative justice and the betterment of society. Steven is married to Beth Levine. The couple resides in Winnetka, IL, where they have raised four children: Benjamin, Jeremy, Gabriel, and Hannah.

JOEL CENSER ’08
The Lawrence Forman Award for Excellence in Athletics
The Forman Award goes to Haverford athletes who, professionally or voluntarily, have devoted a significant amount of time and energy to the betterment of society. The award honors Lawrence Forman ’60, one of the outstanding athletes in the history of Haverford College, who committed his life both to the betterment of humankind and to international understanding.
Joel Censer currently serves as the chief program officer at Harlem Lacrosse, where he presides over day-to-day operations of the program and its in-school intervention programming in five cities. Joel earned a B.A. in history from Haverford, where he was captain of the men’s lacrosse team and earned All-American honors during his senior year. Joel was previously the director of advancement at Harlem Lacrosse, having built an independent school and college admissions counseling program there that helped send more than 75 students to independent schools and top-tier colleges, with over $25 million in scholarship dollars earned. From 2013 to 2015, Joel served as the boys’ program director at Frederick Douglass Academy in Central Harlem, where he managed Harlem Lacrosse’s flagship school site and built much of the programmatic curriculum and philosophy that has come to define the work of Harlem Lacrosse today. Joel has been interviewed and featured in numerous publications and was profiled in DICK’s Sporting Goods “Sports Matter” Campaign in summer 2015. Before joining Harlem Lacrosse, Joel worked at Lacrosse Magazine, George Mason University, for Barack Obama’s 2008 Presidential campaign in North Carolina, and as a coach for high school and youth lacrosse teams in the Washington, D.C., metro area. Joel is married to Jennifer Spector, and the couple resides in Brooklyn, NY.

LEIGH JAMES CASTANOS ’03
The Lawrence Forman Award for Excellence in Athletics
Leigh James Castanos is a behavioral health consultant at the Mary Howard Health Center under the Public Health Management Corporation in Philadelphia. Leigh earned her B.A. in anthropology, with a concentration in education, from Haverford, where she was also a two-year co-captain of the women’s lacrosse team. Leigh is an active admission representative and proponent for Haverford. After graduation she traveled extensively and lived abroad for two years, in Cyprus and Spain.

Leigh started her nonprofit career at the St. Anthony Foundation of San Francisco, where she facilitated support groups for homeless men in a substance-use recovery program. This work launched her interest in the social work field. In 2011, Leigh earned an M.S.W. from the University of California, Berkeley, and then spent time as a social worker in hospice, supporting both patients and families. She returned to Philadelphia in 2014 to work at the Mary Howard Health Center, where she provides mental health care to underserved and underinsured homeless individuals, demonstrating her continued commitment to serving those in need. On weekends, Leigh trains to run marathons for charity. She remains connected to the tenants of her Quaker upbringing and education by treating people in her life with compassion, while promoting self-efficacy. Leigh is married to Ryan Castanos, and the couple resides in Bryn Mawr, PA, with their one-year-old son.
RACHEL DAVIS ’13
The Haverford College Young Alumni Award for Accomplishments in Leadership
The Young Alumni Award recognizes established and future leaders among Haverford alumni who have graduated in the last 10 years. They have shown great promise and accomplishment in their chosen professions and/or in community, public, or humanitarian service, demonstrating leadership and substantial commitment to the mission of the College.

Rachel Davis is a project geologist and sustainability advisor at Environmental Resources Management, Inc. (ERM) in Malvern, PA. She earned a B.A. in geology and as an undergraduate was an active member of international geology field trips, soccer team, crew team, Honor Council, Joint Student-Administration Alcohol Policy Panel (JSAAPP), Mentoring And Student Teaching (MAST), Earthquakers, Phonathon, and Alumni Weekend staff. Particularly dedicated to recycling and reusability, Rachel aspires to start an environmental and sustainability education program for K–12 schools. In the meantime, she has partnered with local land conservancy programs to teach about the power of recycling in elementary and middle schools during Earth Day and career days. She has initiated company-wide recycling programs at ERM, influencing the mindset of employees as well as business units from Hong Kong and Australia to across the U.S., while removing thousands of pounds of waste from landfills. The monetary return from the local upcycling programs supports her company’s pro-bono environmental consulting group. So far, these donations have supported a variety of community-enhancing projects including women’s education efforts, water health, and student enhancement. Rachel believes in positioning herself as a motivating element to move toward a more sustainable societal structure, starting with the individual. In her spare time, she is a professional multi-medium portrait artist. Rachel resides in West Chester, PA.

SHASHI NEERUKONDA ’08
The Haverford College Young Alumni Award for Accomplishments in Leadership
Shashi Neerukonda is the founder of Satvara, an advisory organization supporting the wellbeing and development of global leaders and organizations in the field of social change. Previously, she served as the ecosystem lead for The Wellbeing Project, where she led a global network of leaders committed to bringing strategic and programmatic change related to wellbeing as well as individual and organizational development to their organizations and communities. Shashi also served as a program manager at The Synergos Institute, where she managed the largest network of social entrepreneurs in the Middle East and North Africa. There she managed collaborative partnerships focused on social entrepreneurship.

ELIZABETH ENLOE
The Friend of Haverford College Award
The Friend Award is given for exemplary and sustained service to the College, and loyal and active support for the mission of the College, by a member of the greater Haverford community. Elizabeth Enloe has long been associated with Quaker service and educational commitments. From 1983 to 2012, she served as regional director for the American Friends Service Committee based in Atlanta, and in the New York metropolitan area. Between 1975 and 1983 she provided development assistance and refugee aid in the Dominican Republic and Somalia with the National Council of Churches. She has been a member of the Scarsdale, NY, and Atlanta, GA, Meetings; her current membership is with 15th Street Meeting in New York City. Elizabeth serves as co-clerk of the Friends Seminary (K–12) Board of Trustees and as trustee of Kendal on Hudson. A Class of 1973 Swarthmore graduate with a degree in English, Elizabeth served on the Haverford Board of Managers from 2002 to 2015. She was also a member of the Haverford Corporation from 1995 to 2015 and was reappointed to a current term in April 2017. Elizabeth resides in New York City.

HAFERFORD ALUMNI WEEKEND
HAV.TO/ALUMNIWEEKEND
Help Students Build Their Professional Wardrobes

As you plan your trip to Alumni Weekend, consider a donation to the 2nd Annual Career Closet Professional Clothing Drive, sponsored by the Center for Career and Professional Advising (CCPA). The goal of the drive is to help students build professional wardrobes as they interview for internships, jobs, fellowships, and graduate school. The Career Closet Open House will be held in September, when students can “shop,” try on clothes, and take what they need—for free! This is a great opportunity to support Haverford students while you get a jump on your spring cleaning.

PLEASE MAKE SURE ITEMS YOU DONATE ARE:
- clean
- in good condition
- contemporary
- professional

To learn more about how you can support the hidden costs of the Haverford experience, or about the CCPA, contact Assistant Vice President, Individual Giving Deb Strecker at dstrecke@haverford.edu or (610) 896-1129.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Where do I go when I arrive on campus?
Please come directly to the Whitehead Campus Center registration desk to check in and receive your Reunion tote bag and any updated class-specific information. If you are staying in the dormitories for the weekend, you will receive your room key and housing assignment at this time. The registration desk is open 24 hours a day between noon on Thursday and 7:00 p.m. on Saturday.

Where is our class housing?
Air-conditioned dormitory rooms are available for Thursday night through Sunday morning, and those who register in advance will be assigned a room upon arrival on campus. Within each room you will find bed linens, blankets, two towels, and basic toiletries for each guest. Only single beds are available. In most cases there is only one bed per room (although there are some doubles). Private baths are not available.

What if I don’t want to stay in a dorm?
Some alumni prefer the convenience of a local hotel. The College has reserved blocks of rooms at several hotels. When making your reservation please indicate that you are calling for the Haverford College Alumni Weekend rate. For additional information, visit hav.to/alumniweekend.

What meals are available?
We offer all Alumni Friday breakfast, lunch, and dinner; Saturday breakfast, lunch, and dinner; and Sunday brunch. On Saturday night, each Reunion class has its own class dinner. We can accommodate restricted diets; please indicate any restrictions when you register.

Where can I park on campus?
The South Lot (see map, page 18) is the closest to the Whitehead Campus Center registration desk; however, alumni may park in any marked space, including those normally reserved for staff or students.

Are children welcome?
Yes! Alumni with young children may bring sleeping bags for them to “camp” in the room. There is no charge for young campers, but please indicate on your registration form how many will stay overnight. In addition, children ages 3–13 are invited to join HaverCamp, Saturday’s daylong camp session. (See description, page 7.) Activities include a nature walk, games, arts and crafts, and a trip to the family carnival. Unfortunately, we are unable to provide care for children under the age of three or who are not potty-trained. Pre-registration is required.
